SELNET ALERT 47

Dear SELNET member,

We are pleased to inform you that SELNET has achieved a significant academic milestone. Their article entitled: "Histopathological diagnostic agreement study in bone and soft tissue tumours: the SELNET sarcoma network experience", has been accepted and will be published online on 15 December 2025 at 16:00 EST in JCO Global Oncology.

The article will be available at:

https://ascopubs.org/journal/go

This work represents a significant landmark for our network and highlights the value of international collaboration. This manuscript is the first to be launched by the pathology group and it is the first step to understand how we can improve the diagnosis of sarcomas within SELNET.

We extend our congratulations to all the authors, and especially to Dr. Righi, Dr. Gambarotti, Dr. Martin Broto, and Dr. Dei Tos for their work.

We encourage all members to share and disseminate the publication on social media and in professional circles to contribute to its visibility and impact.

Sincerely,
SELNET Executive Committee
