SELNET ALERT 51

Dear SELNET Member,

As you are aware, we are beginning the year with an important symposium on January 22, 2025, titled "SYMPOSIUM ON SPECIAL LOCAL APPROACHES IN SARCOMAS." On this occasion, we have prepared a program that examines the significance of local therapeutic approaches involving all specialties that constitute the sarcoma committees. Experts from SELNET will participate in the program.

Within this meeting, we particularly encourage the participation of residents and young specialists from our SELNET institutions. We invite them to submit a case aligned with the theme of local treatment approaches (in either localized or metastatic disease). Each case presentation should include the following information:

- Demographic data, therapeutic details, outcome data, discussion, and conclusion
- Each case must be presented in no more than three slides
- The author's name and affiliated institution must be clearly indicated

Note: send cases to imarin@atbsarc.org with the subject: Clinical Cases 22 January

At the conclusion of the meeting, the slides of the cases will be displayed during the breaks and made available on the SELNET website. There will be no formal oral presentation of each case.

The jury (SELNET Executive Committee, provided there is no conflict of interest) will evaluate each case and award a prize of 1,000 euros and a second prize of 500 euros to the two highest-scoring presentations.

The deadline for submissions is January 20 at 12:00 midnight CET.

The program will be conducted in English with simultaneous translation to ensure language is not a barrier. We count on your participation and leadership in encouraging specialists from your hospital to register and attend.

Sincerely,
SELNET Executive Committee
